34	The next time you bust your grandparents in a ten-second smooch, remind them that they are spreading over eighty million bacteria between their mouths.
97	The illustration on the middle-right side of the page depicts two women looking at each other with blushing cheeks. They are holding hands, and several hearts occupying the space between them.
150	The illustration on this page depicts a young woman looking downward at her breasts poking out her shirt. She has an exclamation coming out of her mouth. See Figure 1.
153	Not all babies are born boys or girls, males or females. There are actually many more ways of being a person than most people realize! For example, some people are born with reproductive parts that don't necessarily match the specific characteristics of "male" or "female." Others, as they grow, may find that they don't identify with the "boy" or "girl" label they were given the day they were born.
154-155	The illustration on this page depicts a board game board titled "LET'S PLAY PUBERTY" with text or images on spaces on the board. One of the spaces on the board contains an illustration of a young woman's clothed chest. The text on the image reads: THE LUMPS SURPRISE! YOUR LUMPS HAVE ARRIVED! See Figure 2.
